Fred Vilbig

To talk about his book:

LEAVE NO SOUL BEHIND

The world is a mess, and the problems are beyond our individual abilities to solve. However, as Catholics, we have a unique ability to participate in the solution through prayer, living our faith, and sacrifice. The problem, though, is that many of us don't know how to become a part of the solution. Please join Fred as he discusses, with Linda Carroll of the Catholic Bar Association, a plan of action to help our families, our communities, and even our society.

Fred Vilbig is a lawyer in St. Louis, Missouri, where he and his wife have raised their eleven children. He is a graduate of the University of Dallas with a degree in the philosophy of St. Thomas Aquinas and St. Louis University School of Law where he received his JD. He is associated with the firm of Shands, Elbert, Gianoulakis & Giljum, LLP, where he practices law in the areas of estate planning, corporate and business law, and real estate. He has served on numerous local, regional, and national boards of trustees and also as a councilman for his hometown. For a number of years, he served as president of the St. Louis Catholic Lawyers Association & The St. Thomas More Society. Over time, he has grown more and more concerned about the direction of our society. In response, he wrote, Leave No Soul Behind, a handbook for Catholics facing the challenges that contemporary society poses for faithful Catholics. His hope is that by encouraging more Catholics to deeply live their faith, we can have a positive impact on our families, our communities, and even our society.
